It is not less essential that a merchant shall lay down a plan of publicity than it is for him to lay in a line of goods. There must be this sort of interdependence of the two to really do a profitable business. To have goods is a primary condition, but it cannot, without loss, be separated from that of quick sales. This is brought about by ADVERTISING. And the Evening Bulletin gives daily testimony of its stimulating effect on trade.

Japanese Try To Bribe The Board Of Medical Examiners

CANDIDATES FOR LICENSES TRY FRAUD

Attempts have been made recently on the part of Japanese candidates for physicians' licenses to bribe members of the Board of Medical Examiners.

This statement is made by President Pinkham of the Board of Health in a letter which he sends to Governor Carter. The letter is for the purpose of placing himself on record in the matter.

At least two members of the Board of Examiners have received valuable presents from some of the candidates, although their acquaintance with the candidates was of the slightest, and not such as to warrant either the giving or the reception of such presents, whether sent with the compliments of the season or otherwise. A pointblank offer of money was made by the representative of one candidate to one member of the Board.

Of course, these attempts at bribery met with no success. The present sent to one member was retained, but only to be used as evidence against the bribe-giver.

Governor Carter this morning decided to make public the letter received by him from President Pinkham, telling of these things. He says that it is not his custom to have letters from the heads of departments published, but this matter is one which needs publicity, and he therefore makes public the letter in full.

The following is the text of President Pinkham's letter to the Governor: Hon. Geo. R. Carter, Governor, Territory of Hawaii.

Dear Sir:—I wish to place myself on record in the matter of the admission of Japanese physicians to the practice of medicine in the Territory of Hawaii.

There are many things of which we are convinced, legal proof of which it would be difficult to produce in court. I have studied the situation throughout the Territory for a long time.

There are Japanese physicians whose skill, ethics and cultivation are such they always receive the highest recognition, and most of these share the sentiment of our first-class physicians that we can not too carefully guard our licenses to practice medicine and surgery.

There is no question but that such latitude was given and confidence reposed in former examinations in the Japanese language that there was no opportunity for outside collusion, prompting and assistance and that such practices did obtain with the result that the examinations were misled and unworthy candidates were admitted to practice.

The medical and professional ethics of very many Japanese physicians do not correspond to those expected of and practiced by physicians of the Anglo-Saxon race.

Did these Japanese physicians con-

TRANSPORTATION OF CREW OF BARK CARROLTON

The cableship Restorer will in all probability take the officers and crew of the bark Carrolton, which was wrecked at Midway day before yesterday, from that island to Vancouver, B. C. Negotiations to this effect were commenced this morning and will be completed as soon as the New York office of the cable company can be heard from and the owners of the vessel communicated with by cable.

Captain Combes expressed himself as willing to do anything which he could in order to help the Carrolton's crew and visited the office of Irwin & Co. this morning to talk the matter over. He will leave for Midway on Monday and will do some work, changing the landing position of the cable on the island, and then go to Vancouver, B. C.

GOVERNOR CARTER IS FORTY YEARS OLD

Governor Carter is forty years old today. That he was celebrating some event was evident this morning from the appearance of the Governor himself and of his desk, even before he made the announcement that he had seen forty summers and a few less winters. He wore about his neck a large green lei, and his desk was covered with flowers sent by his friends and admirers.

"I used to think that at forty a man was old," said the Governor, "but I have changed my mind. I feel a good deal younger than I did some years ago."

And his appearance confirmed his words. There was no immediate sign of advancing age about him.

At 8 o'clock this morning the band serenaded the Governor at his home. Among other selections played was a march composed by Captain Berger in honor of the Chief Executive.

WILL TAYLOR LOOK INTO SITE MATTER?

R. H. Taylor Says He Is Not Taylor Mentioned By Taylor

The multitude of Taylors in Washington, who have to do with the Federal building site matter has created quite a little confusion in town today. R. H. Taylor, a special agent of the Treasury Department, arrived in the Mongolia yesterday, and the question is now whether or not he is the agent who was to be sent here to investigate and report on the local Federal building site.

Some time ago when Frank S. Dodge, the manager of the Bishop Estate, was in Washington, Supervising Architect Taylor told him that a Mr. Taylor, who was formerly assistant secretary of the Treasury Department, would be sent here as an agent to report on the site matter.

As a consequence when R. H. Taylor arrived, those interested in the building site proposition, as well as everyone else, who paid any attention to the matter, thought that the real Taylor, who was to attend to the site case, was here. Taylor, however, denied this. He was Special Agent Taylor, but not the former Assistant Secretary Taylor, whom Supervising Architect Taylor referred to. The Taylor mentioned was Horace A. Taylor, and that gentleman had departed for Europe on account of ill health.

A Bulletin reporter was told by Taylor, the Taylor who is here now, that he was merely down here for a vacation, and that he had not been sent to Honolulu to look up the building site matter.

"Would such a matter as the reporting on the building sites not come under your province?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, yes, it might," answered Taylor. "Have you ever reported on such matters?"

"Yes, several times."

"Still, you say you will not report on the building site here?"

"I might be asked to report on it, if the matter should come up in Washington while I am here, but I was not sent here for that purpose. My business is to report on the site matter."

Old Engine Worried Willie

Puako, Hawaii.—Billy killed himself because of worry over old engine. He left the following message: "William Winter, born tenth day of July, 1882, at Kerrie-muir, Perthshire, Scotland, departed this life. His journey was brief through this world of woe but when death came calling he was ready to go. Signed, William Winter." Have new engine going but we need more spark to work it. Will call you in half an hour and send particulars.

WAGNER. The above message was received from the operator of the wireless station at Puako this noon.

William Winter, a machinist in the employ of the Wireless Company, committed suicide some time Wednesday night or Thursday morning at Puako, Hawaii, where he had been sent to repair the wireless station at that point. His body was found at 10 o'clock Thursday morning lying near the station, while alongside was a shot gun.

GOVERNOR MAY NOW GET INFORMATION

Federal Officials Are Told To Answer Questions

Orders have been issued by the Department heads at Washington to the Federal employees of the Territory of Hawaii, in accordance with instructions given by President Roosevelt, that they are hereafter to give to the Governor of the Territory any information concerning their departments which he may desire.

Governor Carter learned of this action by a letter received recently from the President and also one from the Secretary of the Treasury. Secretary Moody has also written to some of the Federal officials stationed here, giving them the same instructions. This action is taken in accordance with a suggestion made by Governor Carter to the President in a recent letter. But the action is much broadened in its effect than the Governor asked for or expected.

There is a standing order to Federal employees that they are not to give out any information from their departments without first obtaining permission from the Department heads at Washington. On account of the geographical location of Hawaii, this proves very inconvenient, as much valuable time is consumed. The Governor often has occasion to ask for information.

THREE APPEAL FROM THE LOWER COURT

Three notices of appeal were filed with the clerk of the Circuit Court this morning, all being brought by defendants against whom Judge Whitney had found.

Lee Chue, who was found guilty of assault with a knife on Wong Hing and sentenced to pay a fine of $50, is one of those who appeal from the judgment of the court.

Chung Hong Kee, defendant in the suit brought by James L. Holt, tax assessor, also appeals from the judgment of the lower court, in which he was sentenced to pay on his back taxes to the extent, including costs, of $149.62.

In the case of the suit brought by William W. Gunn against the Kaimuki Heights Zoo, Ltd., for $112.24 as payment for services rendered, the district court found for the plaintiff in the sum of $127.03 on December 14. An appeal is taken by the defendant.

The court of land registration today granted to John Emmeluth the right to register and confirm title to 2573 square feet of land at the corner of Kaimuki and King streets.

Carter Wins Point

The injunction against Governor Carter restraining him from disposing of the Lanai lands was dissolved by Judge Holt today at the conclusion of the arguments of the attorneys. The injunction against Land Commissioner Pratt is not yet dissolved, but probably will be after Milverton gets through with his argument.

The judge sidestepped the question of jurisdiction, and the dissolution of the injunction leaves the matter still open. De Holt holds the Governor is not liable till he acts on Pratt's recommendation.

MAGNATE CASSATT IS DEAD

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 28.—Alexander J. Cassatt, President of the Pennsylvania Railway, died suddenly today from heart disease. Cassatt was one of the leading railway magnates of the country, a power in national as well as State affairs, and has been president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company since June, 1899. He was educated in the University of Wisconsin and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Entered service of Pennsylvania Railroad Company as rodman in 1861. In 1864 he held the position of resident engineer on the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad. In 1867 he was made superintendent of motive power and machinery on the Pennsylvania Railroad; 1870 was general manager of lines east of Pittsburgh; 1871 to 1874 third vice president. He was born in Pittsburgh Dec. 8, 1839.

Governor Carter is said to have promised Secretary Barton of the American Board of Missions to write a treatise on Hawaii's history, for which he has for some time been collecting data, for a Boston magazine owned by the Board.
